Tisha B'Av Will Be Observed At Service On July 26

From sundown, Monday, July 26th to sundown, Tuesday, July 27th, Tisha B'Av (the ninth day of the month of Av) is observed by Jews worldwide as a day of remembrance of the many tragic events in the Jewish historical past.

At Park Avenue Synagogue, a special service in observance of Tisha B'Av will take place on Monday evening, July 26th beginning at 8:30 P.M. At this time, the Minhah service will be recited, followed by the Tisha B'Av service, and will be led by Rabbi Melissa F. Crespy and Cantor David Lefkowitz, together with the synagogue choir.

The somber mood of Tisha B'Av is reflected by liturgical poetry recited during the service; and the beauty of the haunting kinot (dirges) is augmented through soul-stirring musical settings.

In this service, the lights are dimmed, candles are lit, and the events of the past are recalled through readings in the Book of Lamentations, selections of appropriate poetry, and the singing of liturgical music.

Dubins At Work

45 years ago, Harry Dubin, a past man of the Board of Trustees of our congregation, bought his adolescent son, Ronald, a 35mm camera as a gift. They used to spend Sunday mornings doing things together and one Sunday decided to do some photography in Central Park. This was the beginning of a year-long project photographing people en- (continued on page 3)

From The Rabbi's Desk

Should a Gentile wish to convert to Judaism today it is not very difficult. Certainly no obstacle would be put in his or her way by the civil authorities. Not so long ago, however, such an action could have meant the death penalty.

Count Potocki was a revered martyr whose life and death was an inspiration, especially to the Jews of Vilna. According to the legend, he studied in Paris as a young man and became interested in Judaism. After some time in a Catholic Seminary, he moved to Amsterdam and became a Jew. Returning to Lithuania, he lived as an observant Jew, but was reported to the authorities. Refusing to recant, he was burned at the stake on Shavuot, 1749. His remains were taken by a local Jew to the cemetery and buried. Apparently, a tree grew over the grave which became the site of vast pilgrimages. The tree was destroyed, but on a visit to Vilna some years ago I saw that the community had made a model tree over the grave of this Ger Zedek (righteous proselyte).

Yet another brave convert of that period was an Englishman, Lord George Gordon, who lived from 1757 to 1793. He entered Parliament in 1774 and became famous as president of the United Protestant League. The "Gordon Riots" are a well known part of British history. These were instigated by him as a protest against Catholic Civil Rights. Soon afterwards, he too became interested in Judaism, and in spite of being rejected by the London rabbinate, he converted either in another city or in Holland. He became exceedingly observant and, even when imprisoned for libels on the British and French governments, he insisted on maintaining strict Kashrut. He refused to speak to any Jew not bearded and held regular Minyanim in prison. He died in prison, the subject of extensive mockery.

Rabbi Nadich's Article Appears in Washington Paper

At the request of the editor of the Washington Jewish News, Rabbi Judah Nadich wrote an article entitled, "The American Army and the Jewish Survivors." The article was published in the special Holocaust issue of the paper on April 22, published in connection with the opening of the United States Holocaust Museum in Washington. The article was based on Rabbi Nadich's experiences as advisor on Jewish affairs to General Dwight D. Eisenhower in Germany after the capture of the German concentration camps in 1945.

Book of Remembrance
Publishing
Deadline is June 30

Park Avenue Synagogue publishes a Book of Remembrance every year, for Yom Kippur, in which members of our congregation can list the names of their departed loved ones. The deadline for the inclusion of names to be listed is Wednesday, June 30, 1993.

Since there is no carryover of listings from one year to the next, the names of loved ones must be re-submitted each year.

Names of the departed listed in the Book of Remembrance are memorialized during the liturgical year when Yizkor is recited, during services on Yom Kippur and the Festivals of Sukkot, Passover, and Shavuot.

The publishing deadline for the Book of Remembrance is a firm one. Therefore, avoid disappointment. Return the card you will receive in the mail promptly.

gaged in some of the typical modes of earning a livelihood in New York City in the late 1940's. To make the photos more personal and exciting (although at times embarrassing), Harry Dubin would persuade a prospective subject to loan him his work uniform or signature "props." Thus, Ron Dubin photographed his father in all sorts of get-ups and situations with unsuspecting bystanders — for example, as a hot dog vendor, a fireman, a Good-Humor man, and even as a street cleaner.

An exhibit of a dozen photos from their 40 print album collection called "Dubin At Work" is being displayed now through September, 1993 at the Museum of the City of New York located at Fifth Avenue and 103rd Street.

Part of an exhibit entitled, "PRESENTS OF THE PAST: RECENT GIFTS TO THE MUSEUM OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK," the museum calls "Dubin At Work" one of its most imaginative acquisitions.

Harry is now retired and Ron is the chairman of Dubin Clark & Co., a private investment firm.

Plan to visit the Museum of the City of New York one Sunday this summer to see this exhibit featuring our prominent and respected member, Harry Dubin.

WEG Wine Sale Proceeds Donated To Worthy Causes

This year, the proceeds from the Women's Evening Group's annual Passover Wine Sale have been donated to three very worthy projects, to two within our synagogue — The Committee For The Homeless & Community Outreach and the High School Food Pantry and to one outside of our synagogue, to Project Ezra for the Jewish elderly on the Lower East Side.

WEG thanks all members of the congregation who supported the Passover Wine Sale and looks forward to your continuing support next year so that the group can again make donations to deserving projects.

A Message From Varda Hubara Educational Director

The 1992-1993 academic year has been exceedingly productive. Curricula throughout the elementary school have been revised and new curricula initiated, programs have been expanded and new events have been introduced. An important aspect of these changes and additions has been the increased involvement of parents with the programs.

"Yom Haatzmaut," Israel Independence Day, was celebrated by students' participation in Israel study activities which included games, films, dancing, singing, art projects, the requisite falafel and the traditional blue and white cupcakes happily consumed by generations of Park Avenue Synagogue students. It was sheer joy to see students so involved and excited.

Our teachers are enthused and invigorated by the growing range of programs. We are all indebted to them for their extraordinary dedication and for maintaining the excellence of the school.

Once again, a large range of elective courses was offered in the Judah Nadich High School. Among the many excellent programs enjoyed was an evening with Solomon Perel, the protagonist of the recent film "Europa Europa." And two highly successful retreats contributed immensely to the establishment of a sense of community and shared experience.

Appleman Chapel Now Exhibits Its New Lecturn Cover

Dedicated to the memory of their son, the Rudy family has donated a lecturn cover to be used in the Appleman Chapel. Its inscription reads: "Presented by Edward and Edith Rudy in memory of their son Lloyd (Lonnie) Rudy."

This lecture cover replaces the one made to honor World War II's victory in Europe, which was badly worn and has been retired to Park Avenue Synagogue's archives.

The new lecturn cover, inspired by the chapel's Adolph Gottlieb windows, was designed by artist Ita Aber, Park Avenue Synagogue's adjunct curator, to complement the Gottlieb windows.

Ms. Aber-curator, art historian, and artist, represented by Noel Fine Arts in Bronxville, N.Y. — is listed in Who's Who in American Art and Who's Who in the East. She is also the current curator for the Hebrew Home for the Aged in Riverdale and has received commissions to execute synagogue textiles in the U.S., Canada, Israel, and Chile.

In addition, as an author, she has written The Art of Judaic Needlework (published by Chas. Scribner & Sons) and a Textile Study Guide (published by Indiana University) as well as contributed to many museum articles and catalogues and publications on antiques and fine arts.

Make yourself a mental or written note to see the new lecture cover in the Appleman Chapel next time you are in the synagogue for a Minyan or some other reason.
